WORLD'S FAIR NOTES.

A Few Pointers About Chicago.

As a great many readers of the ROUNDABOUT will make their first trip to Chicago during the World's Fair, a few pointers regarding the geography of the city will be appreciated. In the first place fix firmly in your mind that Lake Michigan forms the eastern boundary of the entire city, and if you stand facing the lake with both arms outstretched the left hand will point to the north and the right hand will point straight down the tracks of the Big Four route to the World's Fair buildings, situated at the southern end of the city. Paste this in your hat and you have the key to the entire situation. Coming into Chicago on trains of the Big Four Route, which is the only railroad having an entrance on the south side along the lake front, where all the hotels and boarding houses are located, you will find yourself passing practically through the exposition grounds and a magnificent panoramic view of the fair is obtained.

At the World's Fair station of the Big Four route, if you step off at the right side, you are at the entrance gate to the exposition and can begin "doing" the Fair at once; if you step off on the left side, you will find yourself in the finest resident portion of Chicago, and right in the midst of the World's Fair hotel and boarding house district. The chances are ten to one that you will be within a few minutes' walk of the very place you have selected for your headquarters.

If you prefer to go down town, ten minutes' ride will bring you to the new Twelfth Street station, in the heart of the city. Now bear in mind the manifest advantage of entering Chicago on the Big Four route. In the first place you avoid entirely the bother and trouble of a tedious transfer across the city, which is necessary via all other lines, being landed directly at the exposition grounds, an advantage offered by no other line; and in the second place you can so fix the geography of the city in your mind that you will at once become as familiar with Chicago as you are with your own town. Another point in favor of the Big Four route is found in the fact that if you enter Cincinnati on the Queen & Crescent route, Louisville & Nashville R. R., Kentucky Central Ry., Chesapeake & Ohio Ry., or Baltimore & Ohio S. W. R. R., connection is made in Union depot, avoiding the disagreeable transfer necessary via all other lines. For full particulars address D. B. MARTIN, General Passenger agent, Cincinnati.
